

IMAGES FOR LIVE TRAINING

Based on the Primary manual, this training has been designed to work flexibly, while emphasizing important training elements. It may be easily adapted by using the Secondary Manual outline for Lesson 1A. Lesson 1A in the Powerpoint may be skipped by pressing a button, and the lesson may be taught live by the trainer.

The central objectives of the training focuses on getting those being trained engaged with the manual and practicing teaching and discussing lessons with one another. These sections should be prioritized—teaching a component of 1B and a randomly selected group teaching of one of the lessons that seems most appropriate in an abbreviated form. A short break after about two hours should be included.

The 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights created by the United Nations after World War II identified 30 specific human rights that apply to everyone, everywhere. Many children do not know their rights. Teaching children Human Rights brings excitement and critical education to the classroom. The Colega manual teaches human rights found in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The Colega manual includes lessons on Equality, Discrimination, Bullying, Marriage and Family, Religion or Belief, Education and Duty to the Community. As a member of the United Nations, your country has agreed to uphold and teach the principles and values found in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Colega materials have been developed to help you educate young people in your community on its principles. This manual is provided at no cost by the Geneva Office for Human Rights Education. Colega means friend. Our logo represents children and their books, emphasizing human rights for all children. Colega lessons help teachers, administrators and students learn about their rights and responsibilities. Lessons include songs, stories, activities, questions, discussion and challenges.
